Special Student Rate For John Kenneth Galbraith Lecture
At Museum of Modern Art

A special student rate of $2.25 is available for a lecture on Economics, Art and Environment by John Kenneth Galbraith at the Museum of Modern Art on Tuesday, January 19 at 8:30 p.m. The talk is sponsored by the Museum's Junior Council as part of a series entitled "Dimensions." General admission is $3.00.

Mr. Galbraith, Professor of Economics at Harvard University and author of the best seller The Affluent Society, will discuss some of the results of the continued alienation of the artist from our economic life. He will urge the American businessman, who has accommodated himself to the scientist in the course of accommodating himself to the 20th century, to now come to terms with the artist. A question and answer period will follow the talk.

Tickets may be ordered by mail or obtained at the Museum of Modern Art, 11 West 53 Street. Seats are not reserved.
