THE MUSEUM OF MODERN ART CONTINUES FAMILY PROGRAMS Saturdays, through mid-May 1992

The Museum of Modern Art continues its winter/spring season of Saturday-morning programs for children ages five to ten and their adult friends. Continuing through mid-May, these programs include Family Gallery Programs and Family Films. The schedule is as follows:

FAMILY GALLERY PROGRAMS

10:00 - 11:00 a.m.

"One-at-a-Time"

Drop-in guided walks through the Museum's galleries during non-public hours introduce children and their adult friends to the diverse world of modern art. Every Saturday, through May 16 (except April 18), participants explore different aspects of the the Museum's collection.

Admission is $5 per family and includes a free return pass. Preregistration is not required. Enter through the Edward John Noble Education Center at 18 West 54 Street. Doors open at 9:45 a.m.

"Three-in-a-Row"

Workshops held on three consecutive Saturdays encourage children and adults to look at and talk about art in the Museum's collection. Activities are designed to accommodate children of two age groups--five to seven and eight to ten--and the workshops are grouped accordingly.

Preregistration is required. Admission is $15 per family for each workshop and includes a free return pass. Enter the Museum through the Edward John Noble Education Center at 18 West 54 Street. The schedule is as follows:

February 22, 29, & March 7	The Inside Story (ages 5 - 7) Who's Looking at You? (ages 8 - 10)
March 14, 21, & 28	What Happens Next? (ages 5 - 7) Let's Figure it Out (ages 8 - 10) People, Places, and Things (ages 8 - 10)

-more-

April 25, May 2, & 9

Tables and Fables (ages 5 -7)
Torn, Stacked, and Knotted (ages 8 - 10)

FAMILY FILMS

April 25, May 2, 9, & 16
12:30 - 1:30 p.m.

This season's program features a wide range of classic film shorts, including live action, animation, documentary, and fantasy. Themes include Not Exactly Still-lives, Searching for a Feathered Friend, Playing with Collage, and Going through Changes, among others. Museum staff introduce the films, provide notes, and suggest follow-up activities.

Family Films is planned in cooperation with Maureen Gaffney of the Media Center for Children. For individual film titles, consult the film listings for these dates. Films are shown in the Museum's Roy and Niuta Titus Theater 2. Admission is $5 per family. Tickets may be purchased at the Lobby Information Desk. Enter the Museum at 11 West 53 Street.

Family Programs are made possible by generous grants from the Herbert and Kitty Glantz Foundation, the J.E. and Z.B. Butler Foundation, and the David Rockefeller, Sr./David Rockefeller, Jr. Charitable Lead Trust. Additional funding is provided by The Contemporary Arts Council of The Museum of Modern Art and individual members of The Trustee Committee on Education.
