WHAT'S NEW

ETCHINGS

Jim Dine's Etchings

Jun 6--Sep 5

One hundred prints trace the history of Dine's work in etching, exploring his imagery and techniques. In his first drypoints, Dine brought a fresh and imaginative attitude to printmaking, directly relating this work to his "happenings" and construction/canvases. He was one of the first to return to the old art of hand-coloring prints, thereby producing a body of work of infinite variety. His most recent work has an expressive, tortured character that expands and may reorient ideas regarding Dine's art and that of his generation.
(East Wing, 1st floor)

SOUND INSTALLATION

Max Neuhaus

June 8--Sep

This is the second in a series of sound installations, the first of which was installed beneath a pedestrian island in Times Square where a deep, rich texture of sound was generated from beneath a subway grating, and transformed the aural environment for pedestrians. In contrast, the Museum's installation is located in the quiet of the Sculpture Garden, with sound generated from within a ventilation chamber running along the East Wing of the Museum.

ARCHITECTURE

The Architecture of Gunnar Asplund

Jun 30--Sep 10

Erik Gunnar Asplund (1885-1940) was Sweden's leading architect in the years between the two world wars. His untimely death at age 55 ended a brilliant career at its height. By the early 1920s Asplund had emerged as the most innovative practitioner of "new classicism," a Scandinavian-wide movement. His conversion to the International Style led to his much admired buildings for the Stockholm Exhibition of 1930. However, having embraced functionalism, Asplund was one of the first to react against it. As early as 1935 he began to reintegrate modern architecture with classical, vernacular, and archaic sources, and it is this combination of interests that makes Asplund's work so fascinating today. (Goodwin Galleries, 2nd floor)

PHOTOGRAPHY

Mirrors and Windows: American Photography Since 1960

Jul 28--Oct 2

Press Preview
Jul 26
11am-4pm

This exhibition of approximately 200 prints will attempt to provide a critical overview of the new American photography of the past two decades. The central thesis of the exhibition claims that the basic dichotomy in contemporary photography distinguishes those who think of photography fundamentally as a means of self-expression from those who think of it as a method of exploration. A major publication will accompany the exhibition. Made possible by grants from Philip Morris, Inc., and the National Endowment for the Arts. (René d'Harnoncourt Galleries, 1st floor)

DRAWINGS

Artists and Writers

Jul 10--Sep 24

An exhibition of 75 drawings from the Museum Collection ranging in date from 1889 to 1976. These drawings are portraits of 20th-century American and European painters and sculptors, poets and philosophers, novelists and critics. Portraits of writers include those of John Ashbery, Joe Bousquet, Bertolt Brecht, John Dewey, Iwan Goll, Max Jacob, James Joyce, Frank O'Hara, Kenneth Kock, Katherine Anne Porter, Albert Schweitzer, Gertrude Stein, Tristan Tzara, and Glenway Wescott. Among the artists represented by self-portraits will be Botero, Chagall, Duchamp, Hartley, Kirchner, Laurencin, Matisse, Orozco, Samaras, Shahn, Sheeler, and Spilliaert. (Sachs Galleries, 3rd floor)

Matisse in the Collection of The Museum of Modern Art

Oct 27--Jan 5

This major fall exhibition of approximately 140 works will inaugurate the Museum's 50th anniversary year and will offer the public the opportunity to view at one time a collection of work by a single master unrivaled in depth and quality. It will include all Matisse holdings in the Museum collection as well as promised gifts and life-interest gifts. The Museum of Modern Art holds the greatest collection of Matisse in the Western Hemisphere, particularly the years when he was considered to be at his zenith. Included will be major paintings, sculpture, drawings, prints, preparatory studies, books, cut-outs, a stained-glass window, and a set of chasubles. The exhibition is being directed by John Elderfield, Curator of the Department of Painting and Sculpture, who is also writing the accompanying catalog. The catalog will contain essays by William Lieberman, Director of the Department of Drawings, and Riva Castleman, Director, Department of Prints and Illustrated Books. (René d'Harnoncourt Galleries, 1st floor)

CURRENT EXHIBITIONS

DRAWINGS

A Treasury of Modern Drawing: The Joan and Lester Avnet Collection

Through Jul 4

This newly acquired collection of 20th-century drawings is the largest and one of the most important bequests of drawings ever received by the Museum. Consisting of 180 works by 100 European and American artists, it spans the first seven decades of this century. Beginning with the School of Paris and Cubism with works by Braque, Chagall, Léger, Matisse, Picasso, and Rouault, the collection also includes drawings by Brancusi, Dubuffet, Kandinsky, Klee, Moore, Nadelman, and Orozco, as well as Dine, Johns, Pollock, and Rothko, among numerous others. The Avnet Collection was formed specifically for the Museum, filling many lacunae in the Museum's holdings and containing images that relate to works in other media already owned by the Museum. (René d'Harnoncourt Galleries, 1st floor)

VIDEO

Projects: Video XVIII

Through Jun 20

Non-broadcast and broadcast television: a selection of seven works by Jon Alpert, Keiko Tsuno, and Karen Ranucci; Antonio Muntadas; Tava; Bob and Nancy Thurber; Steina and Woody Vasulka; Bill Viola; and Tina Girouard. (Northwest Gallery, 1st floor)

DESIGN

Bang & Olufsen: Design for Sound by Jakob Jensen

Through Jun 18

This exhibition of about 30 objects by the Danish firm of Bang & Olufsen, noted for their understated, elegant design, includes receivers, radio sets, turntables, tape decks, loudspeakers, and television sets. (Goodwin Galleries, 2nd floor)

PRINTS
PAINTINGS &
DRAWINGSMexican Art

Through Jun 29

Eighty prints, paintings, and drawings from the Museum Collection. The exhibition begins with the pre-revolutionary engravings of Posada, who arrived in Mexico City in 1887. Posada's heritage was a popular idiom alternately realistic and fantastic and, sometimes, aggressive. It gave impetus to artists who followed the revolution and who were often concerned with political and social commentary. Paintings by the three muralists Orozco, Siqueiros, and Rivera are included in the survey. (Sachs Galleries, 3rd floor)

PHOTOGRAPHY

Jerry Dantzig and the Cirkut Camera

Through Jul 30

Color landscapes, averaging six feet long and describing over 180 degrees of a circle, made with an obsolescent camera first designed in the Victorian period. This is the first in a series of exhibitions on contemporary American photography to be sponsored by Springs Mills. (Steichen Center, 3rd floor)

ART LENDING

Art for Corporations

Through Jul 4

Examples of modern art suitable for the corporate environment without simply being office decoration. This selection is made up chiefly of duplicates of prints presently in the collections of corporations that were clients of the Junior Council's Art Advisory Service. All works are for rent and for sale. (Penthouse, 6th floor)

DRAWINGS

SET MODELS
SKETCHES &
STILLSDesigned for Film: The Hollywood Art Director

Through Sep 26

Over 100 drawings, matte paintings, set models, continuity sketches, and stills demonstrating the importance of production design in determining the visual style of a film, and highlighting the extraordinary achievements of such art directors as Robert Boyle, Ben Carré, Ted Haworth, George Jenkins, Boris Leven, and William Cameron Menzies. (Auditorium Gallery)

The Museum of Modern Art's exhibition program is made possible in part by public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts, a state agency whose funds are recommended by the Governor and appropriated by the State Legislature.

FILM COURSE

Looking at Film: Screen Acting

Through Jun 28

The conclusion of the third in this year's series of film courses, conducted by Walter Kerr, noted performing arts critic and author of The Silent Clowns, will be held on Wednesday evenings at 6:00 p.m. from June 14 through June 28. Mr. Kerr will discuss various approaches to acting that have been applied to the screen over the decades, focusing on some of the performers whose work has had a particular impact on film history. The two final evenings in the course will feature guest appearances by prominent film actors. All lectures will be accompanied by relevant screenings. LOOKING AT FILM is made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), a federal agency. The Museum of Modern Art is an NEH Learning Museum.

ONGOING

The Museum's collections of modern painting, sculpture, drawings, prints, architecture, design, photography and film are the most comprehensive in the world. They offer an unrivaled review of the modern masters and movements that have made the period from about 1885 to the present one of the most varied and revolutionary in the entire history of art. The collections provide an essential background for the Museum's temporary loan exhibitions.
